ORDER

Docket 9

17 Plaintiff Jennifer Walling (“Plaintiff”) filed an employment action in state court, 18 which Defendant AGA Medical Holdings, Inc., dba AGA Medical Corporation, 19 (“Defendant”) removed based on diversity jurisdiction, 28 U.S.C. § 1332. The parties are 20 presently before the Court on Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Personal 21 Jurisdiction, or Alternatively, to Quash Service of Summons. (Docket 9.) Having read and 22 considered the papers filed in connection with this matter and being fully informed, the 23 Court hereby GRANTS Defendant’s motion to quash and DENIES without prejudice
24 Defendant’s motion to dismiss as moot. The Court, in its discretion, finds this matter
25 suitable for resolution without oral argument. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 78(b); N.D. Cal. L.R. 7-26 1(b).

1 I. BACKGROUND

2 A. FACTUAL SUMMARY

3 On March 5, 2007, Plaintiff, a resident of California, signed an employment contract 4 with AGA Medical Corporation. (Docket 20, Ex. A; Docket 25, Ex. A ¶1.) The 5 employment contract states: “AGA Medical Corporation means AGA Medical Corporation 6 and any subsidiary or affiliated corporations and the operating divisions of any of them.”
 7 (Docket 20-1, Ex. A.) Consistent with the definition that “AGA Medical Corporation” 8 means any of its subsidiaries, on March 6, 2007, Plaintiff signed an offer letter of 9 employment with a subsidiary of AGA Medical Corporation, Amplatzer Medical 10 Corporation (“Amplatzer”). (Docket 9, Rother Decl.; Docket 23-2, Ex. A; Docket 25, Ex.
 11 A.) Pursuant to her employment contract, Plaintiff was a sales representative selling 12 medical equipment and products in California. (Docket 20 ¶ 2, Exs. A&B.)

13 Despite signing the offer letter of employment with Amplatzer, during her 14 employment, Plaintiff submitted her expense reports to AGA Medical Corporation.
 15 (Docket 20 ¶¶ 2-3.) On August 10, 2010, Plaintiff’s employment was terminated. (Docket 16 25, Ex. A ¶ 6.) At that time, Plaintiff was accused of submitting fraudulent expense
 17 reports. Id. Therefore, AGA Medical Corporation Human Resource Director Jody O’Neil
 18 (“HR Director O’Neil” or “O’Neil”) deducted amounts from Plaintiff’s earnings 19 attributable to the allegedly fraudulent expense reports, sending letters with regard to the 20 accusations and deductions to Plaintiff’s San Francisco address. (Id.; Docket 20-2, Ex. B.)

21 B. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

22 On October 12, 2010, Plaintiff filed the instant action to recover the amounts 23 deducted from her earnings, as well as damages, in the Superior Court of the State of 24 California, County of San Francisco. (Docket 25, Ex. A.) Although Plaintiff signed the 25 employment contract with AGA Medical Corporation and an employment offer letter with 26 Amplatzer, Plaintiff did not name these entities as defendants in her suit. (Docket 20, Ex.
 27 A; Docket 25, Ex. A.) Instead, Plaintiff names AGA Medical Holdings, Inc. as the 28 defendant-employer, claiming this entity was doing business as AGA Medical Corporation.

1 (Docket 25, Ex. A ¶2.) Plaintiff alleges causes of action for: (1) failure to reimburse 2 expenses in violation of California Labor Code § 2802; (2) making unlawful deductions in 3 violation of California Labor Code §§ 221 and 224; (3) engaging in unlawful and unfair
 4 business practices in violation of California's Unfair Competition Law, California Business
 5 and Professions Code § 17200; and (4) engaging in defamation. (Id.)

6 On October 20, 2010, a paralegal at AGA Medical Corporation's headquarters in 7 Minnesota accepted a hand delivered copy of Plaintiff's complaint. (Docket 9, Rother 8 Decl. ¶ 8.) On November 18, 2010, Defendant removed the action to this Court based on 9 diversity jurisdiction, 28 U.S.C. § 1332. (Docket 1.)

10 On November 29, 2010, Defendant filed a motion to dismiss for lack of personal 11 jurisdiction, as well as to quash services of process. (Docket 9.) Defendant maintains that 12 it never employed Plaintiff and it has no contacts in California, and therefore the Court does 13 not have personal jurisdiction over it. (Id., Rother Decl.; Docket 23, Ex. A; Docket 25, Ex.
 14 A.) As to its motion to quash the summons, Defendant contends that AGA Medical 15 Corporation's paralegal had no authority to accept service of process on its behalf. (Id.)

16 On February 13, 2011, Plaintiff opposed Defendant's motions. (Docket 19.) With 17 regard to Defendant's motion to quash, Plaintiff asserts that the paralegal who accepted 18 service represented that she had the authority to do so, and therefore service was proper.
 19 (Id.) On the personal jurisdiction issue, Plaintiff opposes Defendant's contacts arguments, 20 and, alternatively requests that she be able to conduct jurisdictional discovery to obtain
 21 evidence that the Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant. (Docket 19.)

22 II. DISCUSSION

23 A. LEGAL STANDARD

24 When an action is removed after service of process, the sufficiency of that service is 25 determined under state law. Lee v. City of Beaumont, 12 F.3d 933, 936-37 (9th Cir. 1993), 26 overruled on other grounds, Cal. Dep't of Water Resources v. Powerex Corp., 533 F.3d
 27 1087, 1091 (9th Cir. 2008). Under California Code of Civil Procedure § 416.10(b), service 28 of process may be accepted on behalf of a corporation by specified corporate officers, as

1 well as persons authorized by the corporation to receive service of process. Where the 2 validity of service of process on a foreign corporation is challenged by a motion to quash,
3 plaintiff has the burden of proving that service was proper. General Motors Corp. v. Sup.
4 Ct., 15 Cal.App.3d 81, 85 (1971).

5 B. ANALYSIS

6 Defendant seeks to quash Plaintiff's service of process. Plaintiff contends service 7 was proper because she served a person authorized to receive service under section 8 416.10(b).

9 Plaintiff served a paralegal in AGA Medical Corporation's Minnesota headquarters
10 with the complaint. Plaintiff has presented no evidence that Defendant authorized a 11 paralegal of AGA Medical Corporation to accept service of process on its behalf. Plaintiff 12 does present declaration testimony from her attorney that the paralegal represented that she 13 was authorized to accept service. However, this evidence is inadequate to show the 14 paralegal was actually authorized by Defendant to receive service for Defendant. General 15 Motors Corp., 15 Cal.App.3d at 86, is illustrative of this point.

16 In General Motors, a secretary employed by the defendant-corporation had 17 represented that a particular corporate officer was authorized to accept service when the 18 corporation had not authorized the officer to do so. Id. Plaintiff served the officer 19 indicated by the secretary, and, when defendant sought to quash the summons, argued that 20 the secretary's representation precluded the defendant from quashing the summons. The 21 court disagreed, finding the defendant had not authorized the officer to receive service and 22 the secretary's representation could not change that fact. Id. The court found that, to hold 23 that the defendant-corporation is estopped from denying the corporate officer's lack of 24 authority to receive service based on an employee's representation "would be to vest every 25 employee, regardless of rank, in a large corporation with the power to invalidate the 26 statute[, thereby] rewarding slothful counsel." Id. Thus, the court granted the motion to 27 quash summons. Id.

28

1 As in General Motors, Plaintiff has failed to show that she served a person
2 authorized by Defendant to accept service on its behalf. Consequently, the Court GRANTS 3 Defendant's motion to quash. Now that Plaintiff is in federal court, Plaintiff shall 4 effectuate service of process pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4, as directed 5 below. Moreover, in light of Plaintiff's insufficient service of process, Defendant is not 6 properly before this Court, and therefore the Court DENIES without prejudice Defendant's 7 motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction as moot.

8 III. CONCLUSION

9 For the reasons set forth above,

10 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

11 1. Defendant's motion to quash summons is GRANTED. Plaintiff shall effect 12 service on Defendant within ninety (90) days of the date that this Order is filed. Upon 13 effectuating service, Plaintiff shall file a certificate of service with the Court forthwith.
14 Failure to serve Defendant within the specified time-frame will result in the dismissal of the 15 action, without prejudice, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(m).

16 2. Defendant's motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction is DENIED 17 without prejudice as moot.

18 IT IS SO ORDERED.
